What is OggCamp?

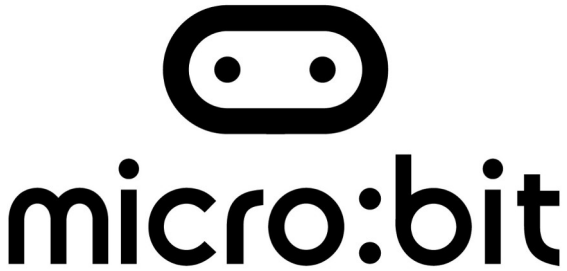
- OggCamp is the largest UK (un)conference celebrating Free and Open Source Software, Free culture, the Maker movement, digital rights, education, and all manner of collaborative cultural activities.

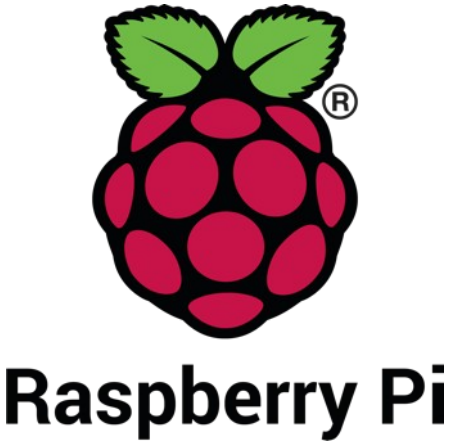
- This year we're planning on having 4 tracks, our main stage with a number of scheduled talks, along with our traditional 3 '(un)conference' 25 minute talk slots!

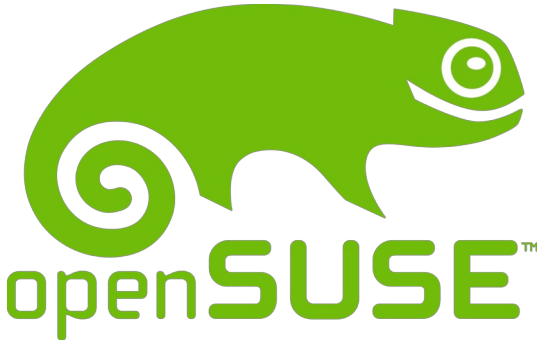
- After taking a break, we are back in 2024:

Manchester Conference Centre
12th & 13th October 2024

We’re usually joined by developers and representatives of projects such as: Raspberry Pi, the Linux kernel, Ubuntu, Debian, OpenSuse, Micro:Bit, Drupal and many more!







To get a proper feel for the event please see the short intro video on our website front page: http://oggcamp.org

How can you help?

We couldn’t do this without your help and support. In return we strive to repay sponsors in every way we can. Value for money is important and many sponsors return year on year.

Here’s a quick list of sponsorship levels and benefits we can offer.

Silver: 600 GBP

- A public thank you in opening and closing sessions plus our podcast recordings.
- Potential audience of over 50,000 podcast listeners via FLOSS WEEKLY, The Ubuntu Podcast, Geek News Radio, Radio Beacon Online and the Late Night Linux Podcast.
- Logo on the event website.

Gold: 1200 GBP

- Silver level plus:
- Your logo included on official event merchandise and signage.
- All banners, posters, pop ups, handouts or marketing materials you wish to send are welcome. We will distribute in the venue.

For example: T-shirts and mugs.

Platinum: 1600 GBP

- Gold level plus:
- Reserved exhibition table for the 2 days.
- The chance to name a room or stage as you see fit:
  - e.g “The Widget Inc. Stage”

Pinnacle: 2800 GBP

- Platinum level plus:
- Larger logo in headline position on event website & all materials.
- Possible speaking slot on the scheduled track (to be discussed).
- EXCLUSIVE, only 1 slot available at this level!
- Got another idea? Ask us :)
